Programme Synopsis

Recipe for sustainable, healthy, nutritious food: changing our consumption

8 November

17:00 local time | 15:00 UK GMT | 10:00 EST

Food Systems Pavilion

WRAP is part of the theme day 'Enable' in the Food Systems Pavilion. Our session – with our partners Consumer Goods Council South Africa and Thriving Solutions - looks at how changing diets will accelerate action on food for both people and planet.

We will launch our Food Loss and Waste: Commitments to Action report which looks at how food systems are reflected in the NDCs submitted by countries.

Speakers: WRAP, The Global FoodBanking Network, EAT Forum, Indonesia Business Council for Sustainable Development, Posner Foundation of Pittsburgh

WRAP: David Rogers, Claire Shrewsbury

Collaborating for Climate Progress in a Polarized World, (Part of the New York Times Climate Forward Programme)

9 November

18:45 local time | 16:45 UK GMT

Park Regency Resort

The dinner conversation will be led by Somini Sengupta, International Climate Change Correspondent, The New York Times. An editorial dinner, presented by Google, is a top-level invite-only gathering of business and institutional leaders, to discuss the relationship between business and policy around climate and how can climate action overcome their current misalignment.

WRAP: Keith James

Promoting Sustainable Municipal Solid Waste Management and the Transition to a Low-Carbon Economy

10 November

14:30-17:00 local time | 12:30-15:00 UK GMT

China Pavilion

WRAP presentation on 'Making the connection between climate change and better waste sorting' will part of the session on sharing experiences around municipal solid waste sorting and organic waste recycling. In particular, the focus of the exchange will be on how to motivate local residents to raise climate awareness and change behaviour.

WRAP: Keith James

Adaptation in Action: Fostering Private Sector Finance Park (Part of the New York Times Climate Forward Programme)

11 November

18:45 local time | 16:45 UK GMT

Park Regency Resort

This editorial dinner, presented by BCG, will be a high-level gathering of business and institutional leaders to discuss climate finance for adaptation and resilience and what can be done to accelerate long-term private sector investment. The dinner conversation will be led by The New York Times' climate correspondent David Gelles. (Invitation only)

WRAP: Richard Swannell

WRAP is a climate action NGO working around the globe to tackle the causes of the climate crisis and give the planet a sustainable future.

Our vision is a thriving world in which climate change is no longer a problem.

At WRAP we believe that our natural resources shouldn't be wasted. And that everything we use should be re-used and recycled.

Our mission is to make the world a more sustainable place. We bring people together, we act on the facts, and we drive change.

Our core purpose is to help you tackle climate change and protect our planet by changing the way things are produced, consumed and disposed of.
